Dems call out Oath Keepers

The Democrats of Western North Carolina are alarmed and disheartened to hear that Sheriff Dustin Smith has been linked to the radical, right-wing, fascist national group called the Constitutional Sheriffs & Peace Officers Association.

The members of this group claim to hold themselves above the Constitution, the rule of law and the safety of the communities they are charged to serve. In doing so, they break their oath to uphold the Constitution. They have no business in public office.

There is no place in western North Carolina for anti-American hate groups, like the Oath Keepers and others, who had a hand in producing last Saturday's event in Cherokee County. We do not welcome their seditious ideology here

Meeting was not extremist

I would like to thank everyone involved who helped to make the Sept. 9 event, "The County Sheriffs America's Last Hope," a big success.

Thanks go out to the Cherokee County Sheriff's Office

For those of you naysayers, there was absolutely no racism and no far-right extremist agenda. The day was all about our Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and how our sheriff is the most important person in our county, or any county, and how he can protect us from tyranny and federal overreach.

Our Constitution is for everyone; it does not matter if you are left, right or anything in between. It was a pleasure, an honor and very inspirational to have Mack come to our neck of the woods.

There is hope for us all if we unite county by county ... state by state. Do your own research and stand for our Founding Fathers, our Constitution, Bill of Rights, and our constitutional sheriff, Dustin Smith.
